An Exceptional Year

Dear Santa Monica-Malibu Education Foundation Supporter,

2014-15 was an incredible year for the Santa Monica-Malibu Education Foundation and our school district. It marked the first time that outstanding, equitable programs, funded by annual donations to SMMEF, were delivered districtwide.

Every school received an enrichment grant to fund programs specific to their campus and curriculum – from science and technology to student health and wellness. At each elementary school in the district, students benefited from 30 weeks of comprehensive arts instruction and well-trained instructional assistants in the classroom.

Also, thanks to you, our community raised $2,365,721 during our 2014-15 campaign to fund outstanding programs in our schools! In just our second year of district-wide fundraising, we are thrilled that 2,790 donors contributed to ensure equitable educational opportunities for each student in our district. By working together, our community provides every child, in each school in our district, the well-rounded experiences needed to be prepared for their dynamic futures.

SMMEF works with a varied range of donors to build sustainable, diversified support for our students. In 2014-15, 41% of funds raised came from SMMUSD families, 26% from community members, 8% from corporations and businesses, 12% from foundations and organizations, and 13% from events, investment income and other sources.

In addition to the programs funded by these annual donations, SMMEF is proud to support additional arts and enrichment programs for thousands of students through the interest earned from our endowments. Valued at over $7.4 million, these endowments provide continued, secure funding for students.

On behalf of SMMUSD's 11,257 students, thank you to all the SMMEF donors, Superintendent's Circle members, Corporate Partners, PTA leaders and volunteers who contributed their resources, time and talent to make our local public schools strong.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Rawson
President

Linda Greenberg
Executive Director

Examples of Your Donations at Work

Reading Partners at John Muir Elementary

Reading Partners is a nationally known organization that provides trained volunteers to read with students in grades K through 4. Reading Partners transforms a space at school into a designated “Reading Center,” places an AmeriCorps member on site to coordinate the program, and recruits a corps of 40 to 100 volunteers. Volunteers work one-on-one with selected students twice a week in 45-minute tutoring sessions.

Reading Partners uses a research-based curriculum to foster students’ early literacy and reading comprehension skills. And the program gets results! In a 2014 report, the program was found to effectively increase students’ literacy skills. At Muir, Erin Croix, the program’s site coordinator, noted that students are meeting or surpassing their end-of-year reading goals. “I’m pleasantly surprised to see our students moving ahead so quickly!”

Erin has recruited a number of volunteers from the Muir neighborhood. Some are retired teachers. Others are students at Santa Monica College, or even high school students who tutor after school hours as part of a service learning project. On a recent visit to Muir’s Reading Center, Rose Cheng, a Reading Partners program manager for several Los Angeles area schools, stopped by and filled in as a tutor. As her tutee read aloud with expression and ease, Rose used a stopwatch to time her for fluency. “Wow,” she exclaimed, “you got all the way to page eight and the end of the book in only 38 seconds. Great job! Do you want to see if you can beat your own record? Ready, set, go!”

All of the books, games and materials that are part of the Reading Partners curriculum are funded by SMMEF. They reinforce the rigorous California standards for English Language Arts that are being taught in the classroom.

STEAM at Grant Elementary

Your donations to the Santa Monica-Malibu Education Foundation go to support amazing programs, like STEAM – Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Math! With SMMEF donors’ generous support, Grant now has two STEAM specialist teachers who provide integrated lessons based on the new Next Generation Science Standards in each classroom.

During a recent lesson, STEAM teacher Alana Rattan greeted Virginia Ripley’s third grade students with an enthusiastic, “Hello, engineers!” While sharing photos of bridges, Ms. Rattan reminded students that engineers solve problems – like getting cars and trucks across a river – and that their solutions make life easier for everyone. Then, students tried their own hand at building bridges. Students hypothesized about which shapes would produce the strongest bridge. They began with two-dimensional shapes and then moved into making and connecting three-dimensional figures to build their bridges, testing and redesigning as they went.

Restorative Justice at Santa Monica High School

Samohi has been using its SMMEF stretch grant to more deeply implement the Restorative Justice (RJ) program. This holistic disciplinary approach fosters more positive and supportive relationships amongst students and staff, with the ultimate goal being to create a school with racial harmony where people from all ethnicities feel heard, cared for, valued and safe. While teachers and staff have received training in the program, having students trained to become mentors and trainers for their peers is equally important. As part of the program, almost 100 Samohi students spent two weekends at “Building Bridges Camp” in the San Bernardino Mountains, where they learned about effective communication skills, the impact of social identities, and personal responsibility and leadership. This camp was designed to give high school students of diverse groups the opportunity to engage in challenging activities and courageous dialogue to explore racism and issues related to race, ethnicity, and culture in both their schools and their neighborhoods. Students received training in team building, conflict resolution, effective communication, discrimination reduction and building self-esteem, and gained awareness and tolerance of people from other cultures. One of the students who attended the camp reflected: “I really enjoyed the camp because it opened my eyes to the effects of racism. I learned many great things about other races. The three days at the camp made a great impact on my life. I now know that I have certain feelings that I want to change!” Samohi has plans to continue sending more Samohi students to at least two camps every school year.

Our Endowments

Thanks to generous donors, SMMEF has four endowments:

The For Academics Endowment, established in 1998, was valued at $1,615,738 as of June 30, 2015. The interest income of $67,000 was contributed to SMMEF's annual campaign.

The For The Arts Endowment, created in 2003, was valued at $2,893,971 as of June 30, 2015. $120,839 was used to fund arts programs at middle and high schools.

The Peggy Bergmann Arts Endowment Fund, In Memory of Lenore Bergmann and John Elmer Bergmann, was created in February 2013 and was valued at $2,912,018 as of June 30, 2015. Income from this endowment pays for instruments and semi-private music lessons for socio-economically disadvantaged students district-wide.

SMMEF continues to build its For Athletics Endowment and invites those interested in supporting athletics to contact SMMEF for more information.

Our endowments provide an ongoing and reliable source of funding that ensures consistent programming across the district. Growth of the endowments through donations and investment gains ensures SMMEF can provide students with outstanding programs. When you contribute to an endowment, you create a legacy of support for our students and schools.

Superintendent's Circle and Corporate Partners

The Santa Monica-Malibu Education Foundation THANKS the 2,790 donors who supported our public schools during our 2014-2015 annual campaign. We are especially grateful to the members of our Superintendent's Circle for their extraordinary gifts and commitment to Superintendent Sandra Lyon's vision of excellence for all students in our district. We are also appreciative of our Corporate Partners, who recognize that a strong educational system is the bedrock of a healthy community and vibrant economy.
